

Todd Lewis
Foundation Building Materials (FBM)

Bio

Todd Lewis has been involved in the Exterior Insulation and Finish Systems (EIFS) industry for most of his adult life. He worked in the field installing the product during high school, managed an EIFS production facility after attending college and then went into Sales/Technical for the Midwest Region for Parex, Inc, a major EIFS manufacturer.

He has been selling construction materials for Foundation Building Materials (FBM) since 2001, with a specialty in EIFS sales. During his time at FBM he has sold all of the major manufacturer products including Sto, Dryvit and now, Senergy.

Todd will share his years of experience to better explain the product itself, the pros on its use and when concerns are raised.
